

Jurisprudence and Legal Theory

Chris C. Wigwe, SAN

SECOND EDITION

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

With gratitude to God Almighty, I acknowledge and appreciate with great thanks, the influence of the following learned distinguished academic authors, jurists and judges: M.T. Ladan, J.E. Penner, McCoubrey and White, Alastair Hudson, Justice Niki-Tobi, B.B. Kenyip, J.M. Elegido, Justice A. Kastina-Alu and a host of others too numerous to mention in this book. I also acknowledge with many thanks the immense contributions of the following researchers, who put materials together for this book: Collins Esirah Ovat, Ezeribe Chinwendu Comfort, Zinami Fyneroad Iwariso, Chukwudi Benignus, Collins I. Georgewill, Nakie Baribor Divine, Sokolo Solomon, Adewusi Nathaniel Adewale, Irisominabo Adokiye Tobinso, Opuende Lolo Isaiah, Alikor Ezebuola, Mmuozoba Chinonso Uzodimma, Clifford B. Sigalo, Dein Gillis-Harry, Ekpere Chima Chinda, Fiberesima Aminayanasam, Lawrence Maduabuchukwu Dibia, Oyephio, Akeuseph, Tamunoemi A. Abbiyesuku, Melford O. Georgewill, Lydia O. Abbey, Nkechi N. Mordi and Ifeanyi K. Ewuziem. Special appreciation to Igonibo F. George Esq., a PhD candidate at the Rivers State University, for putting finishing touches and my Secretary Victoria John Akpanika, for meticulously and sequentially arranging this book. Finally, I acknowledge the sacrifice and contributions of my wife Dr. Veronica Chizindu-Wigwe for finding time to support this project. Many thanks to Princeton & Associates Publishing Co. Ltd for their dedication, patience and professional touch in getting this job done.

Prof. Chris Wigwe, SAN, FCI Arb, PhD (Leeds), BL